VOICE OF ARSENAL

We are saying exactly the same tonight as we were saying on 8 January when Cardiff City came here for a Third Round Replay – ‘any draw away from Home in a cup-tie is a good result – you’re still in the competition, and that is the way we view last Saturday. Whether or not we ought to have won is irrelevant; book-makers do not pay out on what might have happened, and anyway that is in the past – only the result tonight matters.’ Cup-tie football is something very special and almost unique. Our performance against Aston Villa a week before going to Bolton last Saturday, was such that it suggested we could beat any team in the country on that form, and that with Bolton bottom of the table with only one League win at Home throughout the season, we could take this one in our stride. But with names like Harlow and Wigan fresh in everyone’s mind, nobody takes any Cup-tie in their stride. None the less we are confident that tonight’s game should take us a step nearer the magical ‘Three times at Wembley for an F.A. Cup Final in three successive years.’ If we do it, that’s another record for our already crowded record book.

Bolton Wanderers, of course, are a famous Cup name. They have appeared in seven F.A. Cup Finals, winning four of them, the first in 1923 (the first Wembley Final) and the last when they beat Manchester United in 1958 by two goals from Nat Lofthouse. In that 1923 Final, when Bolton beat West Ham 2–0, Bolton’s first goal was scored by David Jack. On 13 October 1928 Arsenal created football history when we signed David Jack from Bolton for £10,890 – the first time that a five-figure transfer fee had been paid in British soccer. In less than six seasons David Jack scored 122 goals for Arsenal, and must still be one of the best buys of the century.

It is never possible to compare one generation with another because conditions change so much in the game itself. Strikers today would expect to score far less goals than, shall we say, centre-forwards in the ‘thirties, because the marking is so much tighter – players have to scheme to make room for themselves these days; gone are the huge scores of days gone by, defences dictate the pattern of play too much, but Graham Rix, in the game against Aston Villa, gave a performance which would surely rank with anything that Highbury has seen before in thrill and excitement. Villa came here having lost only two of their last 18 games, a side very much on the crest of the wave, but we outplayed them. Congratulations, too, to Alan Sunderland for his two fine goals, and to Frank Stapleton as well. Frank has not been hitting the back of the net too much recently, but if you assess him by the hand that he has in other people’s goals, and the way he draws defences away from other players, then you will see the major contribution that Frank is making to our successful run. And not just these three players, either . . . it has been very much a team effort from the whole squad. Eleven players aren’t enough to win competitions these days.

GOALS GALORE

In 13 League matches at Highbury, between 1951–52 and 1963–64 Arsenal scored 43 goals against Bolton Wanderers – an average of over three a game – as follows: 4, 4, 4, 3, 3, 3, 1, 6, 2, 5, 1, 3, 4. Many regarded Arsenal's 6–1 win in 1958–59 as the best game Danny Clapton ever had for Arsenal, although Danny scored only one of the goals.

But to our older supporters, Christmas Day, 1952, is the one they will remember most in connection with Bolton. We played at Burnden Park on Christmas afternoon, kick-off 2.15, and at the time we were third in the table, three points behind, but two games in hand over the leaders – Wolves. So it was a vital game. The football results were announced on sound radio – Bolton Wanderers 4 – and most of us wanted to switch off the set, there and then – but then came – 'Arsenal 6'. We won the League that season by .1 of a goal, so our 6 at Bolton were absolutely vital. 47,000 people watched the game. We were losing 1–0, then drawing 1–1, then winning 4–1; 4–2; 5–2; 6–2; 6–4. At 6–4, Bolton were awarded a penalty – Jack Kelsey saved it. That save alone may have won the Championship.

Our team that day was: Kelsey; Wade, Smith; Shaw, Daniel, Mercer (Captain); Milton, Logie, Holton, Lishman, Roper.

Goalscorers: Holton (2), Milton, Logie, Roper, Daniel.

Your Letters . . .

THE FRIENDLY VOICE

Your article of leading goalscorers in this season's programme has been interesting. Obviously it must end sometime and I write to ask if it could be followed up with a series on Arsenal Goalkeepers and possibly leading appearances with a short history of the player and his career after his departure from Highbury.

Things at Arsenal are so well organised, a fact which I have always appreciated and which others soon would when they visit other grounds.

I have always been impressed by the voice over the Public Address which starts with a warm and friendly 'Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen'. I remember one afternoon in particular when there were an incredible number of messages which he had to broadcast about lost children to meet fathers or brothers at the police room south, or Mr. so and so who had to telephone his home immediately and indeed on one occasion a request to to meet his wife at a restaurant in Golders Green.

Can we please know who owns this warm and friendly voice. How about a picture and a story on him. I believe that he has been around a long time and I would think some of the messages he has broadcast have a lot of interest too.

Ernie, whom I have known for a number of years, although never his surname, retired last Saturday after

I believe 21 years. He used to 'guard' the door in the lower east stand through which you could get to the upper tier. Another charming and friendly man. Perhaps you could find room to mention him, too, sometime.

Rodney Saunders.

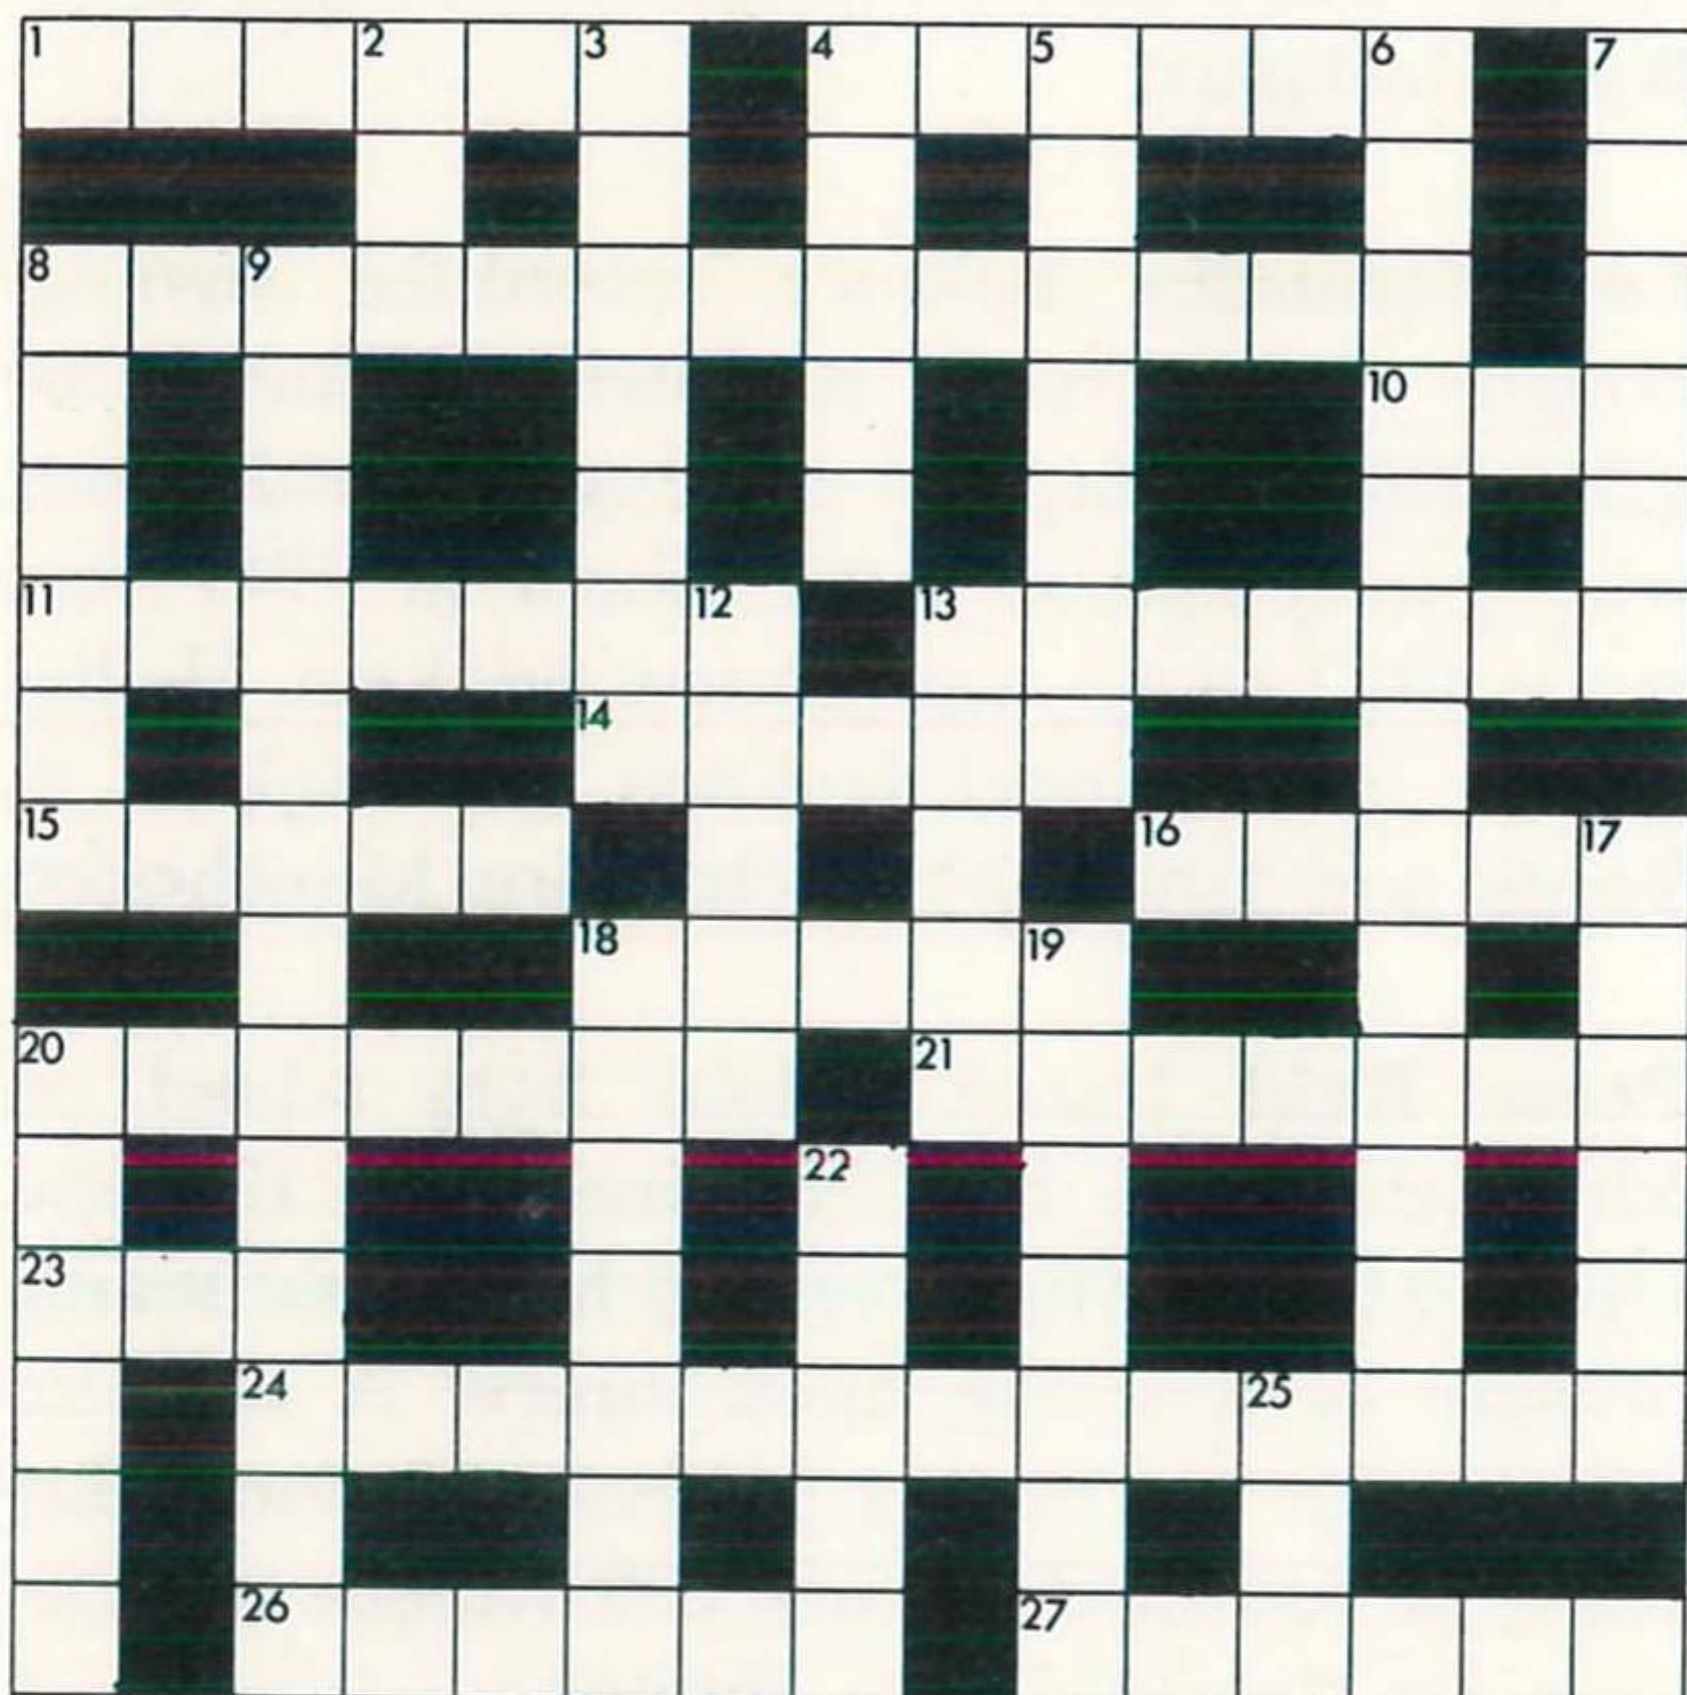

9 Hartfield Avenue,
Elstree, Herts.

The Friendly voice, which you are kind enough to mention, belongs to Wally Pearce, our chief electrician, who has operated our P.A. system for many years now. You are quite right, Ernie Foster retired on the day of the Brighton game. Both, we are sure, will be gladdened by your letter. Thank you, Mr. Saunders.

IT HAS BECOME EVIDENT THAT AN INCREASING NUMBER OF SEASON-TICKET HOLDERS ARE NOT IN POSSESSION OF THEIR SEASON-TICKETS WHEN ATTENDING MATCHES. WE ARE INCREASING THE COST OF A DUPLICATE DAY TICKET TO £5 AND WILL ALSO REQUIRE IDENTIFICATION FROM THE REGISTERED OWNER.

TWO, THREE, FOUR

A look at the three League tables on page 3 shows that we are Second in the Football Combination, Third in the South-East Counties League and Fourth in the Football League, and although many people in football have already automatically given the Football League Championship to Liverpool, we still say we have a chance of winning all three competitions.

Whatever happens in the end, a good many clubs would welcome this sort of position stretching right through the Club. It is a very healthy one and reflects credit on all the coaches. We need not stress the importance these days of a club developing its own players in the face of spiralling transfer fees and we think our Youth policy over many years has paid rewarding dividends.

Arsenal's

No 24 Jimmy Bloomfield

Jimmy Bloomfield, one of the old style inside-forwards with skill and flair, joined Arsenal from Brentford in July 1954 and was with us until 19 November 1960, having made over 200 League appearances and played for England Under-23. In the 1955-56 season Jimmy played in all 42 League games. Most of all he remembers, what many people remember, as the greatest game of football ever played at Arsenal on 1 February 1958 - Arsenal 4, Manchester United 5 - the last game ever played by so many of that brilliant United team. Five days later came the Munich air crash. Five of this team were among the 23 killed. Jimmy Bloomfield scored two goals this day - two of the 55 that he scored in Arsenal colours.
